

THE ART OF PERSUASION

Plan and Persuade to the Ends of the Earth...

Mountaineer and aquanaut, Vanessa O'Brien, holds the Guinness World Record as the first woman to reach the highest and lowest points on Earth. She climbed and reached the summit of Mt Everest in 2012 and ventured to the the deepest part of the Ocean, called the Challenger Deep in the Mariana Trench in 2020. That is EXTREME!

It would be like going to the ends of the earth in both directions. Luckily, Vanessa had lots of people that helped her to achieve these amazing expeditions?

Would your friends go to the ends of the earth with you?

Which extreme place would you like to explore – outer space, the highest mountain or the deepest part of the ocean?

Tick the box of the place that you would like to explore?

- ☐ Climb the highest mountain
- ☐ Explore the deepest parts of the ocean
- ☐ Travel to outer space

If you were to bring a group of friends with you to one of these extreme places, write down three reasons why you think they should come with you:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

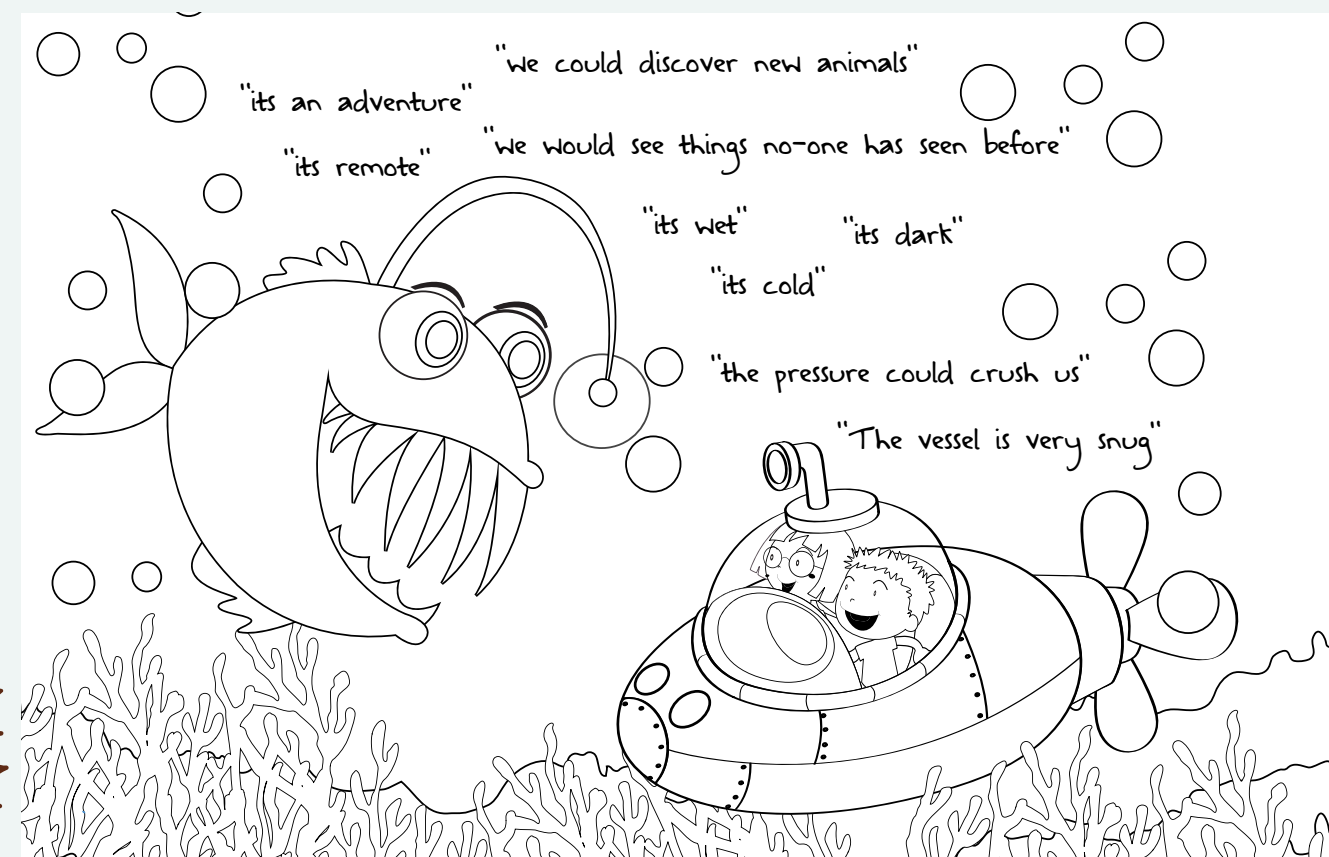

If your friends don't want to join you on your adventure, what do you think three of their reasons are? Do you agree with them? Have you changed your mind?

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

What other ways would you try to convince your friends?

Further points for persuasion:

- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____

Are there other things that your friends could do to help you if they didn't come with you on your extreme exploration? Explain what they could do to help you and to make sure you have them on your team.

- _____
- _____
- _____