

The ocean is largely unexplored

- New technologies, sensors and tools are expanding the ability to explore the ocean.
- Ireland has one of the largest marine territories in Europe.

Blue Society is brought to you by:

sea for SOCIETY.eu

www.explorers.ie

The Sea for Society project is funded by the Seventh Framework Programme of the European Union. This publication reflects the views only of the author, and the European Union cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.